

Sri Venkateswara Vajrakavacha Stotram
(The Diamond armour of Venkatesa)

Translated by
P.R.Ramachander

Narayanam Parabrahma, sarvakaarana kaaranam
Prapadye Venkatesakhyaam,
Tadeva kavacham mama 1

I bow and salute that Venkatesa,
Who is lord Narayana himself,
Who is the divine Lord of all,
And who is the cause of all causes,
And chant his armour for myself.

Sahasra Seersha Purusho
Venkatesassirovatu
Pranasha Prananiyaha
Pranan rakshatu mey Harihi 2

Let my head be protected by,
Lord Venkatesa with thousand aspects,
Who is the lord of all souls,
And place where the soul merges.

Aakasaraat sutaanaatha
Aatmanam me sadavatu
Deva Devottamopayaad
deham mey Venkateswaraha 3

Let the Consort of the daughter of the sky,
May protect my soul always,
Let the body got from the lord of Lords,
Be protected by Lord Venkateswara.

Sarvatra sarvakaryeshu
Mangambajanireeswaraha
Palayenmam sada karma saphalyam naha prayacchatu 4

Let the soul like consort of Alamelu Manga.
Take care of all my works always ,
And lead me to good results of all of them.

Ya Etad vajrakavacha

mabhedyam Venkatesituhu
Sayam Prataha patennityam mrutyum tarati nirbhyaha

5

This diamond armour of Venkatesa, which can never be broken,
If read daily in the evening and morn,
Would help one to cross death without fear.
